The Worst Interests Of The Child: The Trafficking Of Children And Parents Through U.S. Family Courts

Synopsis

“Keith Harmon Snow’s meticulously documented investigation into sex-trafficking of children by American judges is not to be missed. This scandal is one of the most important censored stories in our country today. I might not believe what Mr. Snow has written if I had not independently investigated two dozen cases not discussed in his article, and found ample evidence of the precise dynamics he lays out for us here. Anyone who says they care about child welfare needs to learn what is happening in family courts and take action until it is stopped. Once you start reading this exposé, you won’t be able to put it down.” —Lundy Bancroft

Following up on his emotionally shattering article, *A LIFE SENTENCE * U.S. FAMILY COURTS SACRIFICING MOTHERS & CHILDREN* Family Courts Behind an Epidemic of Pedophilia & Judicial Abuse, published online by Conscious Being Alliance and spread widely over the internet via mothers’ custody websites in 2012. When I read that piece, I realized that Keith Harmon Snow stands as a giant among the very few investigative reporters there who, despite the real dangers of doing so, expose the evil doings of the worst of the worst of our society. He nails the corrupt family court system to the wall once again, in his full-sized expose, The Worst Interests of the Child. Here is a man who stands 180-degrees apart from the kind of men described by mothers' custody attorney Richard Ducote as "breastless men," men who deliberately, maliciously, and relentlessly torment their female ex-partners in the cruelest of ways: by separating her from and harming their children. I happen to know a lot about this topic, as I have worked or interacted with thousands of women who have lost their children under the very same kinds of circumstances described by Keith in this book. The entire book rebounds with truth and resonates with integrity. I read it straight through in one sitting--that's how strong his message is; I couldn't stop until I got it all. Get it, read it, and weep for this generation's children.

Learn the truth that is happening to millions of moms and children in divorce / family court. It is truly an epidemic that is destroying millions of lives so that judges and lawyers can profit off trafficking children! Learn where America is heading - cause you may be next...

This book, "The Worst Interests of the Child" by Keith Harmon Snow, is the best book I have read, which tells the whole true story. Our children who have been abused are used by Family Court to make billions of dollars. I have lived it. I know it as a fact. I am a teacher who has experienced first hand and am a member of an organization, trying to save the children and protective parents from this corrupt system. In most states Family Court has no accountability and has complete and absolute control. I was told by my own attorneys, "it is your money or your child". In the end, most of the time, if one keeps fighting for the safety of ones child or children, the child is given to the abuser.....No matter what. Child Protective Services stays out of or stands with Family Court. If CPS gets involved, they say "you get your child free and get full custody or we take your child and put into foster care." Response, but my brother and his wife would take my child to raise and they are well known responsible citizens who work for the government. CPS response, "We no longer give children to relatives, we put them in foster care. If they want your child, they have to go to court and fight for the child." CPS corruption happening too. Lots of money to be made there as well. Both parents pay toward foster care and the government too. CPS makes big money. If give to relativesno money. Hard to believe, but true. I lived it. God Bless Keith Harmon Snow for telling the true story. This is a cancer moving across our county. We need to stand up and fight for the children and have Family Court and CPS made accountable. Kansas recently created a citizens review board for Family Court. Perhaps we can see how that goes. SAVE THE CHILDREN --- IN TURN IT WILL SAVE OUR COUNTRY.

... it is with very mixed emotions that I find mine is not only not a rare case, but that the problem is so tragically widespread. My experiences with the Massachusetts courts have demonstrated that many judges hold pro se litigants in personal contempt for not knowing the ins and outs of generally expected legal practice, and that in fact most cases are decided in favor of the highest bidder, or perhaps the law firm that pays for the judge to attend a legal seminar in a tourist haven. Moneyed interests-- insurance companies, pharmaceutical interests, bankers-- they own the courts, with minor exceptions to give the appearance of impartiality. My suggestion to parents who truly want to protect their children from obvious abusers is to flee this country for asylum. My foster parents came very close to making that choice, but not being biological parents of me, they had zero legal footing to stand on. I managed to survive a childhood characterized by extreme emotional, psychological, and sexual abuse, within a greater context of contempt and neglect, and a chronic threat of physical abuse. I came to realize that physical abuse was restrained so as to never demonstrate proof. Recovery is a life long process. Keith's book is but one paving stone, albeit a very sound and significant one, along our ways. I am very grateful to Keith Snow for bravely printing his findings. May the forces of the greater good connect and support those of us who seek recovery from the travesties of the courts, and may those same forces of the greater good protect and support Keith Snow.

THE most important book published this year, if you read it and truly grasp how deep and ugly and horrible and SYSTEMIC this is, you'll agree. The women and children destroyed by this system daily must be heard.

I know the parties involved in this story personally and assisted with some of the research. It is a true story and this is a problem not just in Connecticut, but across the country. If you work with children or in the family courts, it's an imperative read.
