

The book was found

Down In The Valley: An Introduction To African American Religious History

Synopsis

African American religions constitute a diverse group of beliefs and practices that emerged from the African diaspora brought about by the Atlantic slave trade. Traditional religions that had informed the worldviews of Africans were transported to the shores of the Americas and transformed to make sense of new contexts and conditions. This book explores the survival of traditional religions and how African American religions have influenced and been shaped by American religious history. The text provides an overview of the central people, issues, and events in an account that considers Protestant denominations, Catholicism, Islam, Pentecostal churches, Voodoo, Conjure, Rastafarianism, and new religious movements such as Black Judaism, the Nation of Islam, and the United Nuwaubian Nation of Moors. The book addresses contemporary controversies, including President Barack Obama's former pastor Jeremiah Wright, and it will be valuable to all students of African American religions, African American studies, sociology of religion, American religious history, the Black Church, and black theology.

Book Information

Paperback: 286 pages

Publisher: Fortress Press; 1 edition (February 1, 2016)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 1451497032

ISBN-13: 978-1451497038

Product Dimensions: 6 x 0.7 x 9 inches

Shipping Weight: 4 ounces (View shipping rates and policies)

Average Customer Review: 3.5 out of 5 stars 2 customer reviews

Best Sellers Rank: #86,128 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #10 in Books > Christian Books & Bibles > Theology > Ecumenism #32 in Books > Textbooks > Humanities > Religious Studies > Religious History #108 in Books > History > World > Religious > Religion, Politics & State

Customer Reviews

"This extraordinary treatment of African American religions introduces pivotal themes in the historical formation of African American religions. Down in the Valley elucidates a sweeping range of religious movements while attending to the larger context of social structures at work in the United States. Through skillful interpretation and a creative display of scholarly knowledge, Julius Bailey has written an exceptional book that transcends the restrictive paradigm of the Black Church to examine Black religions up to the twenty-first century. Bailey's path-breaking volume will reshape the way students and scholars understand African American religions." --Sylvester A. Johnson, Northwestern University,"p>"From African traditional religions through Barack Obama's former pastor Jeremiah Wright, this lively introduction to African American religions reliably informs and enlightens its readers. The full variety of African American religions is clearly and concisely explained here. This may well become the standard text on African American religious history." --Stephen W. Angell, Earlham School of Religion"In this engaging and accessible study, Julius Bailey offers a rich portrait of African American religious life. Providing an efficient and yet detailed account of the significance of Christianity and black churches, Bailey's text also provides readers with a sense of the variety and creativity of African American religious life and highlights a range of political and social issues that shape and challenge black religious communities. It is an enormously useful introduction to the field." --Judith Weisenfeld, Princeton University"Julius Bailey's probing look at African Americans and religion demonstrates how communities have interwoven ideological and material aspects of religion in ways that conserve and enrich tradition, even while black new religious movements have emerged throughout American history to challenge those traditions. This is a fascinating, rewarding, and eminently readable overview." --John Corrigan, Florida State University

Julius H. Bailey is professor of religious studies at the University of Redlands in California. He earned a PhD in religious studies from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and is the author of Race Patriotism: Protest and Print Culture in the A.M.E.Church (2020).

Bit boring. But for a college class.... ok

Bailey has written a serviceable introduction to African American religious history. Rather than focusing primarily on the Black Church (in terms of Christianity) he describes African traditional religions, the development and diversity of black churches, the rise of black new religious movements like the Nation of Islam, the civil rights movement, the prosperity gospel and black megachurches. Light on interpretation but often noting where scholarly perspectives diverge, the utility of this book will be as an introduction to the field.(As an aside, I thought Fortress Press could've put a little more effort into the book's typesetting and print quality whereas other FP books I own evince a little more care. The subject is interesting enough to warrant it! A very good overview.)

Download to continue reading...

African: African Recipes - The Very Best African Cookbook (African recipes, African cookbook, African cook book, African recipe, African recipe book) Down in the Valley: An Introduction to African American Religious History Enfleshing Freedom: Body, Race, and Being (Intersections in African American Theology) (Innovations, African American Religious Thought) World History, Ancient History, Asian History, United States History, European History, Russian History, Indian History, African History. (world history) Africa: African History: From Ancient Egypt to Modern South Africa - Stories, People and Events That Shaped The History of Africa (African Folktales, African ... Africa, Somalia, Nelson Mandela Book 3) Lift Every Voice: The History of African American Music (The African American History Series) Religion and the Making of Nigeria (Religious Cultures of African and African Diaspora People) African Masks Coloring Book: A Coloring Book Featuring Over 30 Images Inspired By Traditional African Masks,Cultural History,Folk Art Coloring Book,African Art Decor Canaan Land: A Religious History of African Americans (Religion in American Life) African American Religious History: A Documentary Witness (The C. Eric Lincoln Series on the Black Experience) Right to Ride: Streetcar Boycotts and African American Citizenship in the Era of Plessy v. Ferguson (The John Hope Franklin Series in African American History and Culture) Self-Taught: African American Education in Slavery and Freedom (The John Hope Franklin Series in African American History and Culture) Down, Down, Down: A Journey to the Bottom of the Sea African Rhythm and African Sensibility: Aesthetics and Social Action in African Musical Idioms A Kitchen in Tunisia: Tunisian Recipes from North Africa (Tunisian Recipes,Tunisian Cookbook, Tunisian Cooking, Tunisian Food, African Recipes, African Cookbook, African Cooking Book 1) AFRICAN Cooking: The Most Delicious African Food Recipes with Simple and Easiest Directions and Mouth Watering Taste - Best African cookbook Major Problems in American Religious History (Major Problems in American History Series) American Evangelicals: A Contemporary History of a Mainstream Religious Movement (Critical Issues in American History) Muslims: Their Religious Beliefs and Practices (Library of Religious Beliefs and Practices) When Religious and Secular Interests Collide: Faith, Law, and the Religious Exemption Debate

Contact Us

DMCA

Privacy

FAQ & Help