The 25th North Carolina Troops In The Civil War: History And Roster Of A Mountain-bred Regiment

Synopsis

Winner, Willie Parker Peace Award--North Carolina Society of Historians This historical account covers the 25th Regiment North Carolina Infantry Troops during the Civil War. Farmers and farmers' sons left their mountain homesteads to enlist with the regiment at Asheville in July and August 1861 and to defend their homeland from a Yankee invasion. The book chronicles the unit's defensive activities in the Carolina coastal regions and the battlefield actions at Seven Days, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Plymouth, Richmond and Petersburg. In addition, casualty and desertion statistics are included, along with a complete regimental roster and 118 photos, illustrations, and maps.

Customer Reviews

"A well-written, beautifully illustrated history of one of the lesser-known North Carolina units." --Civil War News
"This volume should be deemed the consummate source of information regarding the 25th NC Regiment." --Willie Parker Peace History Book Award
"In my personal opinion, Jones is now the world's leading expert on the 25th North Carolina Infantry Regiment...extremely well written and researched. As regimental histories go, and I've read many of them, this is as good as it gets."
--Terrell Garren, renowned western North Carolina Civil War historian and the author of The Secret of War and Mountain Myth

Engineering consultant Carroll C. Jones is a North Carolina native and Civil War enthusiast. He lives in Atlanta, Georgia.

This book is about the 25th Infantry called the Pisgah Guard. My 2 times great grandfather and 2 times great uncle fought in the 25th. Meredith Williams and Charles Willians. Many of the men that fought for the 25th are my ancestors. It was a very good book and gave me a lot of information that I needed to pass along.

Excellent book. All the rosters of individual companies are included. Great for genealogy.

Just checking about information on a lost relative who was in service with the 25th; very informative!

Great Product. Very quick delivery.

I have read more regimental histories than I can count or remember. These histories usually focus on a few interesting battles or people with some, very often many, gaps in the history of any particular regiment. Of all the regiments I've researched the 25th North Carolina is the one I consider my home regiment. My GGGF Williamson Garren and my GGF Joseph Youngblood were both members. Carroll Jones' book THE 25TH NORTH CAROLINA TROOPS IN THE CIVIL WAR, is the best of the best. As an author myself I know how difficult it is to research and document accurate history of a regiment. Very often the sources we use contain inaccuracies. Carroll Jones has done an outstanding job of sorting out all the factual details and presenting them in a cogent manner. When one undertakes the wrting of a regimental history one of the most difficult, expensive and time consuming parts of the work is the assembly of exhibits. This book contains an incredible collection of photographs, illustrations, documents, maps and every other conceivable exhibit associated with this regiment. Jones has included everything I've seen on the regiment in the past 20 years and a lot I had not seen. The expense and effort behind the assembly of the exhibits alone must have been tremendous. Perhaps the most notable thing about this book is the comprehensive nature of the work. I once thought I knew this regiment better than any other living person. After reading Carroll Jones book on the 25th I now realize that the best I could ever hope for is second place. Carroll Jones is now the world's leading expert on the 25th. Congratulations to Mr. Jones on your quintessential example of a regimental history. This masterpiece will be remembered and read for many generations to come. We all owe him for his efforts in documenting and preserving our heritage and history. Thank you, Carroll Jones for a job well done. Terrell T. Garren

An absolute must read for anyone that has an interest in the Civil War. Started reading and could not put it down.
