Questions That Matter: An Invitation To Philosophy

Synopsis

This classic text-reader introduces readers to the fundamental, timeless, and pressing questions of philosophy. The authors make the issues accessible for students with primary source readings incorporated into clearly written text material and an extensive pedagogical program that includes running summaries, high-interest boxes, biographies, epigrams, a philosophical dictionary. The new edition has been streamlined and revised to include a new chapter on Democracy, which expands the coverage of the ever-evolving realm of social and political philosophy.

Ed L. Miller holds a Ph.D. in Philosophy from the University of Southern California and a Doctorate of Theology from the University of Basel, Switzerland. He has taught for the last thirty years at the University of Colorado, Boulder. In addition to being a member of the philosophy faculty, he also teaches for the Religious Studies Department and is Director of the Theology Forum. He is a member of the American Academy of Religion, the Society of Christian Philosophers, and Studiorum Novi Testamenti Societas. JON JENSEN received his PhD in Philosophy from the University of Colorado, Boulder, where he was a student of Professor Miller. While his philosophical interests vary widely, his research and publications focus on environmental philosophy. Jensen has taught at the University of Colorado, Green Mountain College, and now at Luther College, his alma mater. In addition to teaching philosophy, he is an active member of Luther's Environmental Studies program and enjoys canoeing, bicycling, backpacking, and gardening.

Terrific resource. delivered quickly and good price

THOUGHT PROVOKING.

Sometimes wordy, but overall, easy to follow.

Just as described

College text book. It did the job.

I loved this book. Clear, insightful, and elucidating. It was a pleasure to read. Might have been the instructor, too. Great instructor.

Received what I ordered reasonable priced and in a timely fashion.

Well written
